

How does Blancco LUN Eraser handle compressed data?

Blancco LUN Eraser overwriting method number 50 can be used for handling compressed data. Some high-end SAN systems include automatic compression of data. An erasure standard which is based on a single character overwrite will therefore be compressed and the overall speed of the erasure will be significantly reduced.